THE AGE OF THE MICROCOMPUTER HAS ARRIVED

AND

COMPUTER MART
OF NEW JERSEY, INC.

has been instrumental in bringing it to you.

The coming of the Microcomputer has made available to each and every one of us the most versatile and powerful tool ever! The lists of tasks which can be made easier or more enjoyable with the assistance of a computer is limited only by the extent of your imagination.

The people at COMPUTER MART OF NEW JERSEY (and, the soon to open, Computer Mart of Pennsylvania) can assist you in the design and implementation of systems which are suited to your application. Defining the most appropriate hardware configuration and developing quality application systems are our prime objectives.

New products are appearing on the microcomputer market every day. Existing products are being revised and enhanced all the time. The number of different products which have become available to us is literally astounding!

As new products become available our staff evaluates them and decides if they should be included in our product line. We carry a complete line of processors, boards, peripherals, and accessories. This wide variety of products can provide you with a system that is capable of performing whatever tasks might be of interest to you.

We can sit and talk with you about what your needs are. Once these needs have been clearly defined we can help you configure the system that will be best suited to your application, but also flexible enough to allow expansion in the future.

The purchasing of a Microcomputer System is just the beginning. Keeping abreast of what is happening in this field and making sure your system is up and running when you need it are on-going concerns.

We stock a full complement of books and magazines which can provide you with a wealth of information. There are also courses available to train you in specific areas.

If you have a problem with your system, our technical experts can help you find the solution. Our hardware technicians will repair your boards on-site, eliminating the need to ship them across the country.

If you have a system or application which interests you, come talk to us or give us a call.
